Former Trump campaign chairman Paul Manafort is consulting for a trio of businesses owned by a Russian billionaire, the New York Times reports. Manafort reportedly has ties to the three businesses: DGI Products, JF Management, and Sentinel Offshore. They were led by a shell company called Blackwater's Tactical Network Solutions, the Times reports. ADVERTISEMENT Manafort's ties to Blackwater's founder Erik Prince have been previously reported. There are similarities between the companies and positions of power both groups have reportedly held. Manafort was a vice president at Blackwater, an elite company led by Prince that has been accused of human rights violations. Manafort reportedly secured a $1 million annual job with the businesses for Manafort. Prince and the consulting firm had ties to Trump, the Times reports. Donations to Gaza medicine and medical supplies are distributed by the Palestinian Red Crescent, APTN News reported Monday. Large groups of people put those items on trucks and float them down the river in the hope that they will reach the Gaza Strip where they can be handed out to people. The other items include meat and milk donated by donors in Armenia to the Red Crescent. The Red Cross has also agreed to distribute some of the goods, which includes medical items and basic equipment, such as incubators and medical kits. The Red Cross has already distributed 5,000 kits to hospitals in Gaza. More than 5 million people live in Gaza, mostly inside the Gaza Strip. The strip is governed by the Hamas government, which is considered a terrorist organization by the United States and the European Union. Riot police clash with Palestinians who have entered the "buffer zone" to throw stones at Israeli soldiers near the West Bank city of Hebron, last October. (APTN News) More than 5 million people live in Gaza, mostly inside the Gaza Strip. The strip is governed by the Hamas government, which is considered a terrorist organization by the United States and the European Union. Israel withdrew its military forces and settlers from Gaza in 2005, but has maintained tight controls on the Strip
