The bibliography is written in the standard IEEE way. The paper itself is written in the form of a short story, where small sections are marked with chapter titles. The problem I'm having is that the brackets for the citations in the bibliography are black (or rather, the titles are black). See the image below (where I have blurred out the content of the story): I've looked through my bibliography style file, but I'm really not sure where this formatting is coming from. I've tried changing the color of the brackets to be "normal" (e.g., red). Also, changing the color in the document doesn't seem to affect it. Another possibility is that the format is coming from \chapter, which I don't think I've defined myself. A: The bibliography entry uses the BookmarkStyle from the class file bookmark.cls. This class has a chapter type that prints the bookmark title in a special color. The reason is that this is a combination of bookmarks. So adding the MWE:

```
\documentclass[a4paper,12pt,oneside]{book} \usepackage{filecontents}
\begin{filecontents*}{mybook.bib} @book{foo, author = {Author, A.}, title = {Title}, publisher =
{Publisher}, year = {2013}, } \end{filecontents*} \usepackage{biblatex}
\addbibresource{mybook.bib} \DeclareSourceMap{% \maps[datatype=bibtex]{ \map{
\step[fieldset=keywords, fieldvalue={% \textsc{ { {KW
