What other drivers does the Averatec 8700 have? Get the latest drivers: Windows 7, Windows Vista, Windows XP, Windows 2000 If you are facing a problem with the new drivers, please post it. Select your Operating System Windows XP / Vista / 7 / 8 / 10. Hello Daniel, CTX1938, CTX948, CTX959 are three different hardware drivers. CTX1938 (same one as CTX 959). If you have Windows 7, Windows Vista or Windows XP then you should download CTX1938 (v2.1.1). If you have Windows 7, Windows Vista or Windows XP then you should download CTX948 (v4.0.0). If you have Windows 8.1 or Windows 10 then you should download CTX948 (v4.1.0). Best regards, Sebastian Cierpka. Below is a list of drivers for the specific device listed above. Please select the driver you downloaded. If you are facing a problem with the new drivers, please post it. Select your Operating System Windows XP / Vista / 7 / 8 / 10. A special utility for Windows 7 is included. To install the driver, you'll need to install Zadig v2.6.2. After that, simply run the Zadig program from the Start menu. A pop-up dialog box will appear, asking if you want to install the device driver. Click Yes. Zadig will then install the new driver for you. (Zadig is not a Windows program, and cannot be run from within Windows.) I never thought of it until it just now, but when I was looking for a device to work with my XP to upgrade to Win7 yesterday I found this little gem as well, just be warned that it is an XP service pack 3 driver, and will no longer be compatible with Win7, and Win2000 Always install the newest drivers! We have for our CTX1938 a new improved driver version, the V2.1.1, see the note at the end of this post. For information on differences between drivers from Crea and the windows driver please refer to the official forum post, for information on what the new official drivers from Crea should be called, see the post here. The previous drivers were all legacy devices. (In my opinion the CTX1938 should not be called a legacy device, as they are not).

The easiest way to update the firmware is to run the Windows Update utility and let it check for a new driver or firmware update on its own. You'll have to enter your password each time it checks for updates. The best way to do this is to install a third-party software tool like DriverTuner. DriverTuner is free, and it does an excellent job of making sure you don't need to have a manually update the driver. Most people will do it at least once a month. However, if you've just downloaded a driver, just install it once. When you do install a new driver, you'll need to reboot your computer. DriverTuner will tell you if there are any bad consequences when you restart. Usually, there won't be. In the worst case, the driver may not have installed correctly. You'll need to reboot your computer a second time to finish installing the driver. Leave DriverTuner to handle the rest. When it's done, restart your computer and see if you have the latest drivers. In some cases, you may have to turn off auto-update in Windows Update to ensure DriverTuner gets the right driver. That's it! Once you have downloaded your new driver, you'll need to install it. In Windows, use a built-in utility called Device Manager, which allows you to see all of the devices recognized by your system, and the drivers associated with them. 5ec8ef588b
